Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 39-45 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-11 of U.S. Patent No. 6161543. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of Cox, et al.'543 is directed to a method of forming a lesion in the heart tissue including the steps of providing at least one ablation device, introducing the ablation device into the patient's chest, positioning the ablation device in contact with an epicardial surface of the heart, ablating the heart tissue to create a lesion. The specification, column 3, utilizes the method on a beating heart. Clearly at the time of the invention, it was known to use this technique on a beating heart as disclosed by Cox, et al.

Claim 39, the use of a second opening at the time of the invention was known as disclosed in column 13 by Cox, et al.

Claim 40, see column 13 of Cox, et al.

Claims 41-44, see claim 7.

Claims 45, see column 8 of Cox, et al.
